Ugh- it's so awful playing the second fiddle to your oldest brother, boys and girls. I mean, he's not that much more handsome than me is he? IS HE??

Well slap me silly how rude of me I haven't even introduced myself yet! Hello boys and girls, mums and dads! My name is Barry and you just met my older brother Jack. We live with my Mom out of Trotter Bean farm just outside of Beanville.

Do you know where that is?

(Casually) So basically, you wanna take 81 like you are heading to Throop, but when you get to the Gertrude Hawks factory you wanna take a right through the Magical forest of doom. Then you'll come to a bridge where an evil troll will ask you three questions, the answer to all three is Pete Butagege. Then you're gonna take a right, then a left then a left ,then put your right leg in, your right leg out you'll do the hokey cokey and you'll turn around- and right on the other side of that is Beanville-you get all that? Get your mom to google maps it. Kids today don't know their left from their left.

Any hoo, we're really poor...[wait for ahhh] We're poorer than that! Stop it it's not kind to pity the impoverished. Yeah the credit crunch in 08 hit my mom real bad and the farm never recovered. Now with this drought and all the fires our bean crop just wont grow. Now all my mom has is me and her much favored, more attractive brother Jack.

Things are so bad I've looked into getting adopted, but there's not much call for a 30 year old idiot.

[Cymbal crash]

When I was young I was told to walk the plank....well we couldn't afford a dog! Me mam always says I am as wet as a dangling dandelion, "stop your sighing Barry, stop your crying Barry, stop your lying Barry....I never get a bit of credit.....hey do you lot want to help me out? Right, when you see me will you all shout out

Stop being a wet dangling dandelion Barry!
Will you do that? Okay we will give it a go.....I'm gonna walk off over there and when you see me you shout 'stop being a wet dangling dandelion Barry!'. Okay let's go.

[He goes off and comes back on]

BARRY

Was that it? That was rubbish....you need to be much louder than that! Here we go again?

[Barry goes off and comes back on]

Ahhh that's better!

I did have a girlfriend you know..... oh yes.....body like a Greek statue.....completely pale and no arms! The moment I met her, I knew she was a keeper.....coz she was wearing massive gloves.
Now, I've been looking for a replacement girlfriend. Not much call around here....I've been looking on that website Timber, but I've had no luck yet with the ladies, but I did get a very nice message from a lumberjack called Quentin.
Now don't tell anyone but I've got a crush on Daisy, Lord Dilly Dallys daughter. He's our landlord. I think she's lovely. But she likes our Jack, and he loves her so much it's honestly disgusting. Anyhoo- I've got to go find my Ma-she's got the petty cash for the stall and I know you all want to buy up all of our....
